STUDENT OF IT SYSTEM

I am a student of Engineering of Information Technology System with great interest on software developing. I am looking for oportunities that allow me make use of my abilities to contribute in the development of innovative solutions.

PROJECTS

TECHNICAL WRITER (dogOS)

August 2024 - November 2024

- The system dogOS is an integral web solution to improve the operative efficiency and client experience for this hot dog cart business. The app would allow the client to order food from the menu, and the admin would manage those orders (accept or reject).
- I worked closely with the developers and testers to create user-friendly documentation, specially writing the user manual and installation guide.

Project Manager & Back-End Developer (VerdeXpress)

February 2025 - May 2025

- I participated for a while in Back-End; I was in charge of making sure the donations and parks information showed up correctly. My main assignment was task planning, and write the user and administrator manuals.
- El proyecto VerdeXpress was built as a platform designed for the park and gardens registration, in which then people could donate monetary or in-kind donation, with the goal of boost the conservation of green areas in Hermosillo.

Backend Developer (PiggyBank)

November 2025 - January 2026

- The PiggyBank app is a mobile solution for the administration of user's expenses. The app would allow the client to register their weekly expenses, and the app would show their spending statistics.
- I worked completely in developing the back-end of the app, and was in charge of the Firebase usage.
